Dear parents, carers and families,

As we come to the end of an incredibly challenging week I am sure of two things...that our staff have worked tremendously hard to help the children with their first week of remote learning using a new TEAMS-based approach and that you have been fantastic in supporting your children as well as balancing the million and one other things you have had to keep doing each day!

In this second period of school closure, the learning 'feels' different. Hopefully this week you have seen how we are able to communicate to the children much more frequently and give them advice, feedback and support compared to the first lockdown. It was lovely to receive photos in the first lockdown of your efforts and share these on our school facebook page; we would still like to do this over the next few weeks but limit this to different themes. We would love to share photos of you and your children being active or adventurous outside as we all know that staying active is just as important a completing our remote learning! Please do not feel pressurised into doing this!

As we said all the way through the first lockdown, remote learning should not become another source of worry or anxiety in your household; please get in touch if you have any questions. We know this is new for some families – it is for us too! We are here to help and support you and your child in any way we can. I have attached a reminder about the #OK2ASK campaign as it is so important that everyone knows there are services available to help if required.

Take care, stay safe,

DR
