Dear parents, carers and families,

Our Y6 children have really enjoyed being involved in the BBC Arts Community this week. The Y6's had a presentation from Jennie Dennett a local BBC correspondent about the young men of Dalton who had lost their lives during WW1. After finding out more about the named individuals, they then worked alongside Mr Newnham to create individual memorial plaques for each of the houses that have been identified. This project has been followed up with some excellent research and creative writing by the children in class. We hope to be part of the celebration ceremony during November when the plaques will be distributed and mounted around Dalton. It has wonderful to see the children engaging so positively with the local community history.

Next Friday 28th September we are holding a Macmillan Coffee morning here in school to help raise funds for the charity and also to raise the issue of the how to talk about cancer in a positive manner with the children using Macmillan resources in a special assembly. We hope you will be able to join us on the day, our coffee morning will be from 9.00am onwards in The Den and you will be looked after by our new School Councillors!

We are also going to decorate cakes for the children to buy at breaktime and we will gratefully receive any donations of cakes to sell on the day either on Thursday afternoon or on Friday morning.

Thank you in advance for your support,

David Reddy
